

“NO ONE WANTS YOU!!! YOU’RE GARBAGE!!!
GARBAGE!!!”

Nardo and his friends lived on the streets in the Philippines, surviving on food they found in the garbage. The market – empty at night – was a place to sleep on the filthy pieces of cardboard they found there. Sniffing glue helped them to forget about being hungry, forget about being afraid, forget that they were alone. But it could not make the words of Nardo’s father stop ringing in his head. Garbage...he was just garbage.

Then someone cared. They offered food and a warm place to sleep. They offered clean clothes and a chance to go to school. They talked about love and joy and said it was free for anyone. Christians’ Haven offered hope.

But no one wants garbage. How could he reach for that hope when he believed he was garbage?

All Things New is the true story how God radically changed the lives of four young boys through Ken and Angelica Oosting and the discipling ministry they started in the Philippines called Christians’ Haven.

“Our mission is to make disciples the way Jesus made disciples,” said Oosting. “There’s nowhere in scripture where Jesus had a classroom or assigned memory work – Jesus took his disciples with him, and as they went, they began to see the glory of God.” Ken Oosting

(Quote used by permission from By DANIELLE THRONEBERRY, Staff Writer for The Williamson Herald, Franklin, TN)

This story will touch you deeply. The message is hope and the sufficiency of God’s grace is compelling as it connects you with the lives you see on screen. Each character comes face to face with their human limitations and through it they experience the love of God. As you keep reminding yourself that this story is true and that Christians’ Haven is real, you’ll find yourself believing that you can make a difference.